Bialowieza Forest (Poland) 1:50,000 Recreation Map, laminated

Bialowieza Forest is one of the last and largest remaining parts of the primeval forest that once stretched across Eastern Europe. The forest is home to the European bison (Bison bonasus, ZUBR in Polish), Europe's heaviest land animal. It is a UNESCO World Heritage Site, a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve, and an EU Natura 2000 Special Area of Conservation. It straddles the border between Poland and Belarus; there is a border crossing available for hikers and cyclists but Westerners need a visa to enter Belarus.

This double-sided, laminated map at 1:50,000 (1 inch = 0.8 mile) covers the Polish side of the Forest. In the west, it extends to Hajnowka and Narew.

Road network shows locations of petrol stations and roads open to cars within the Bialowieza Forest boundary. Topography is shown by contours at 5m intervals with colouring for different type of land use, e.g. forest, old-growth forest, marshes, orchards, farmland, etc. An overprint highlights waymarked hiking, cycling, equestrian and cross-country ski trails. A wide range of symbols indicate various sport and recreational facilities, places of interest, observation towers, museums, places of worships and cemeteries of various denominations, various types of accommodation, etc. Special attention is paid to indicate wildlife phenomena such as types of vegetation, different tree species, habitat of various birds and animals, etc. The map has latitude and longitude grid at 5' intervals. An enlarged street plan of the village of Bialowieza is in an inset. Map legend is in Polish, English and German.
