The unstructured interface of FrameMaker 8 is ideal for publishing complex documents. Publishing Fundamentals: Unstructured FrameMaker 8 helps you implement automated workflows that let technical communicators focus on creating content instead of struggling with tedious formatting tasks.

Publishing Fundamentals: Unstructured FrameMaker 8 shows you how to:

* Use FrameMaker's word-processing features format text with paragraph and character tags, design complex tables, insert automatically linked cross-references, and store reused content in variables.

* Design page layouts with running headers and footers, place graphics in your documents, and use FrameMaker s drawing tools.

* Import animations and 3D renderings with new support for rich media.

* Implement advanced features such as conditional text, hypertext, equations, and text insets.

* Use FrameMaker's new Unicode support to create content in multiple languages.

The book also includes a long list of FrameMaker resources and information about add-on software that can further boost your productivity. Written by veteran FrameMaker users, Publishing Fundamentals: Unstructured FrameMaker 8 is the must-have reference for anyone using the unstructured interface of FrameMaker 8.

For detailed information about using the structured interface of FrameMaker to create documents based on Extensible Markup Language (XML) and the Darwin Information Typing Architecture (DITA), refer to Publishing Fundamentals: Structured FrameMaker 8 (ISBN 978-0-9704733-5-6).
