An in-depth Bible study programme for churches and individuals, Read, Mark, Learn is a group Bible study course developed over a number of years at one of London's leading churches, St Helen's, Bishopsgate. Already being used by numerous churches around the country, it covers key questions and themes of Christian belief by studying a whole book of the Bible: teaching those who study the courses to know God's word and purpose for their lives. This course covers 30 studies from Paul's Letter to the Romans: potential material for a year. Each study provides: the context of the passage, its aim, structure and any Old Testament background needed. It looks at the meaning of each section, highlighting key issues and practical application. It also gives suggested questions to enable group leaders to lead a complete study.
